

ANEMOI

"In Vino Ventus"

Creation

The god of the East (or sometimes Southeast) wind, Apeliotes, brought refreshing rain beneficial to farmers and is often depicted carrying fruit and grain, dressed in rubber boots and always wearing a friendly expression.

The last of the Cardinal wind directions to be added to the Anemoi line, Apeliotes, is a unique blend of some of the best single varieties vinified in 2012. A single clone (of the five grown) of Cabernet Sauvignon, Clone 337, from our Cliffside Vineyard was blended with Syrah from Lips and our favorite variety, Petit Verdot.

Aromas of blackberry, leather, and candied licorice with hints of black pepper and violet provided by a blend of 44% Cabernet Sauvignon, 44% Syrah and 12% Petit Verdot lead to a well-integrated wine aged in all new oak for ten months resulting in flavors of raspberry, chocolate and toasted coconut, with soft tannins, and a expansive mouthfeel.
